NEW SEMINOLE WAR

If the Great White Father at Washington isn't too busy giving reporters the third term run-around he might take a few minutes off one of these days and settle the new Seminole war which Big Chief Ticks of the interior department and "Dipping Bull" Knapp, state veterinarian, are fixing to start.

The issue seems to be some 400 deer on the Indian reservation in Hendry county. "Dipping Bull" allows as how they're lousy with ticks and wants to shoot 'em before they spread fever to the livestock for which he is family physician. The reservation Seminoles, 40 or 50 strong, say "Uh-uh," and Big Chief Ticks says that goes for him too. Besides that he snorts that there's no sense to it because "The Everglades is an inferior cattle range while it is a perfect deer country."

How the Everglades rates as a cattle range isn't the point. There are cattle there and there are deer there. The deer have ticks which they spread to cows. These cows spread it on other herds until the whole state is infested. The only protection is dipping every 14 days, a costly and inconvenient practice.

Dr. Knapp wants to know if Secretary Ickes wants to consign the huge Florida cattle industry to that for the sake of 400 deer. Secretary Ickes hasn't replied. However, the question deserves an answer, and if the head of the interior department chooses to give it the department of agriculture should seek arbitration at the White House.

It shouldn't be a very difficult problem to settle. A little diplomacy with Big Chief Ticks and some WPAPism for the Indians ought to do it. Since the freeze we haven't heard what venison is worth on the hoof but $100 a head would seem to be an ample price, that probably being about what it costs a hunter to kill one. At that very high rate it's only a matter of some $40,000 in a cash deal and probably far less if they'll let old Trader Cone handle it. He might get the Seminoles to take 400 head of cattle, in which case theirarder would be better off even if he didn't.

Or, even better, the state could borrow those 400 deer and replace them with tickless stock which could be bought from Mr. Ickes, himself, at much less than $100 a head. In fact he has a surplus on government ranges around the country and instead of letting hunters shoot them to thin out the herds he might be willing to ship them down to the Everglades and turn them loose for his 40 or 50 Seminoles to pick when the souvenir business got so bad they had to go out and shoot their supper.

Possibly there is an even simpler solution. The Seminoles are not above earning an honest dollar and we understand the state pays to have ticky deer shot. Why not pay the Seminoles. Ickes says it's all right with him if it is with them and they won't take money for that kind of work the reservation tribe isn't anything like the noble Redskins who exhibit along the Tamiami Trail.—Port Myers News-Press.

A FORTUNATE MAN

He is an American.
He hears an airplane overhead, and if he looks up at all does so in curiosity, neither in fear nor in the hope of seeing a protector.

His wife goes marketing, and her purchases are limited by her taste, her tastes, her budget, but not by deers.

He comes home of an evening through streets which are well lighted, not dimly in blue.

He reads his newspaper and knows that what it says is not connected by a bureau, but an honest, unframed effort to present the truth.

He has never had a gas mask on.

He has never been in a bombproof shelter.

He belongs to such fraternal organizations and clubs as he wishes.

He adheres to a political party to the extent that he desires—the dominant one, if that be his choice, but with the distinct reservation that he may criticize any of its policies with all the vigor which to him seems proper—any other as his convictions dictate, even, if it be his decision, one which holds that the theory of government of the country is wrong and should be scrapped.

He does not believe, if his party is out of power, that the only way in which it can come into power is through a bloody revolution.

He converses with friends, even with chance acquaintances, expressing freely his opinion on any subject, without fear.

He does not expect his mail to be opened between posting and receipt, nor his telephone to be tapped.

He changes his place of dwelling, and does not report so doing to the police.

He has not registered with the police.
He carries an identification card only in case he should be the victim of a traffic accident.

He thinks of his neighbors across international borders—of those to the north as though they were across a state line, rather than as foreigners—of those to the south more as strangers since they speak a language different from his, and with the knowledge that there are now matters of difference between his government and theirs, but of neither with an expectancy of war.

He worships God in the fashion of his choice.

His children are with him in his home, neither removed to a place of greater safety, if young, nor, if older, ordered to serve the State with sacrifice of limb or life.

He has his problems, his troubles, his uncertainties, but all others are not overshadowed by the imminence of battle and sudden death.

He should struggle to preserve his Americanism with its priceless privileges. He is a fortunate man.
He is an American.—New York Sun.

about this Governor's race if you want to, but if you take my advice you'll do your free thinkin' and deep cogitatin' on the problem of electin' a few hang-up senators and representatives. They are the boys that hold the whip hand.

Accordin' to the rules we're playin' under now, it's the AYE's in the legislature and not the NAY's on the stump that really count, and you better be darn sure what kind of "AYEs" the senator or representative from your section are apt to be makin' when they get to Tallahassee. The time to find out about this is BEFORE you send 'em there.

Now you hear a lot of loose talk about our needin' more business men in the legislature. That may be right, but remember a man may be a howling sinner in one particular line of business and when you yank him out of that and shun him headlong into some other kind that he doesn't know anything about, nine chances out of ten he turns out to be a total loss. The thing we need in government today above everything else is good old-fashioned common sense.

Livestock Board Disagrees With Interior Secretary Over Deer Killing

Livestock Group Says The Ticky Deer Must Be Killed Or Else

(Editor's Note: The following article was prepared by the State Livestock Sanitary Board.)

Secretary Ickes' refusal to permit the slaughter of tick infested deer on the Indian Reservation in Hendry County, Florida, endangers the cattle industry, not only of Florida, but of South-eastern United States.

Secretary Ickes' position is not well taken. In 1906 the U. S. Department of Agriculture quarantined the States of Mississippi, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Florida, and portions of Tennessee, Missouri and California on account of the existence of the cattle fever tick, and this quarantine could be lifted only by eliminating the cattle fever tick from these States. The work of tick eradication has been completed in these states and the quarantine lifted except from a few counties in Texas and Florida. The quarantine will never be lifted from Florida as long as cattle tick infested deer are permitted to remain in the Seminole Indian Reservation.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has spent over $200,000 during the last 20 years to eradicate the cattle fever tick from the above mentioned states, in addition to the tremendous amount of money contributed by the States and the cattle owners, co-operating with the Government in this work, and now, when the work of tick eradication reaches an era of Government owned land in Florida (the Seminole Indian Reservation) the Department of Interior refuses to extend the cooperation necessary to complete tick eradication. The tick eradication program prescribed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture was perfect so long as the work was confined to State owned and privately owned land, but the 20-year program of the U. S. Department of Agriculture is now repudiated by Secretary Ickes, representing the U. S. Department of Interior, when the work must be accomplished on land owned by the Government and under its jurisdiction.

Secretary Ickes states that the Seminole Indian Reservation is an inferior cattle range but is perfect for deer and infers the work of tick eradication on the Seminole Indian Reservation to complete the work in Florida is not so important to the cattle industry. Secretary Ickes apparently overlooked the facts, scientifically determined by representatives of his Department, as well as the U. S. Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, (1st) that cattle fever ticks propagate on deer in Florida, and (2nd) that the tick infested deer must be slaughtered to complete tick eradication, and (3rd) that the surroundings of Collier and Hendry Counties, including the 53 sections comprising the Seminole Indian Reservation, harbor tick infested deer. Furthermore, Secretary Ickes fails to explain how he will prevent the ticks now propagating on deer of the Seminole Indian Reservation from spreading to the cattle pastures immediately adjacent to the Reservation, and from these cattle to cattle of other herds and eventually to the cattle pastures of other States. He is willing, apparently, that Florida cattlemen dip their cattle every 14 days year in and year out in order that some 40 or 50 Indians on the Seminole Indian Reservation may not be temporarily deprived of approximately 200 tick infested deer.

Orphanage Head Issues Warning On Magazine Gag

Arcadia, Feb. 8. (FNS)—A warning to the public to beware of fraudulent magazine subscription solicitations claiming to be from the Florida Baptist Children's Home, was issued this week by T. M. Johns, superintendent of the Home.

"Every year for the past three I have been faced with a serious problem," Superintendent Johns said. "Magazine solicitors claiming to be from the Florida Baptist Children's Home come to the Home and ask for a subscription on this basis. Of course they give them the usual story about needing to sell the magazines to get some credits that they might continue their edition and usually give the name of some school in the state, saying they have been enrolled in the school and had to drop out because of the lack of funds."

"Every year I serve notice upon their denominational paper that they should be stopped. The Home never has, and it is not likely that it ever will allow its children to select for anything—magazines and newspapers not excepted—and the public should be warned that the Home has no solicitors."
